Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Nakagawa et al. (US 6,046,902).

FIG. 6

FIG. 7

FIG. 8

Nakagawa et al. disclose in fig. 6-8, an electronic component wherein a lead frame is attached to an element with an electrically conductive adhesive (8), the electronic component being characterized in that the lead frame has an adhesive filling portion (see fig. 8) formed at a part thereof having a lower surface opposed to the element, the filling portion having inside thereof filled with the conductive adhesive (col. 3 lines 30-35).

Regarding claim 2, Nakagawa et al. disclose the adhesive filling portion is a cavity formed in the lead frame.

3. Claims 1-2, and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Aoyama (US 6,188,566).

Aoyama discloses in fig. 1, 3A-3F, an electronic component wherein a lead frame is attached to an element with an electrically conductive adhesive (7 –resin (including melted portion), the electronic component being characterized in that the lead frame has an adhesive filling portion (6) formed at a part thereof having a lower surface opposed to the element, the filling portion having inside thereof filled with the conductive adhesive (including melted portion).

Regarding claim 2, Aoyama discloses the adhesive filling portion is a cavity formed in the lead frame.

Regarding claim 4, Aoyama discloses the electronic component is a solid electrolytic capacitor and the element is a capacitor element.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claim 3 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

The prior art does not teach or fairly suggest (taken in combination with the other claimed features) a plurality of grooves intersecting one another and divided into a plurality of frames segments by the grooves (claim 3).

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

6,751,086 – discloses the claimed invention.

6,451,622 – discloses an electronic device comprising a lead frame having an electroconductive adhesive.

6,813,141 – discloses a solid electrolytic capacitor comprising a lead frame wherein the lead frame forms a cavity.
